DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: in line 29, “and annular protruding portion” should be - - said annular protruding portion - -. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 3 and 4 depend on claim 2 which has been canceled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Seiji (JP 07-269987).

Seiji teaches a method of manufacturing piping 22 having a joining portion, the piping 22 having a connector 21 at an end portion, comprising the steps of: clamping and fixing 28 a portion of the pipe 22 for adjusting a length of the pipe 22 simultaneously when the connector 22 is attached to the end portion; engaging the connector 21 having a through-hole with the end portion of the pipe; and forming 7 the end portion of the pipe 22 to the connector 21 so that the length from the clamping position 28 to the end portion of the pipe 22 can be constant, wherein the length of the pipe 22 is reduced when an excess material of the pipe 22 is absorbed by the formed portion (at 7) so as to adjust the length of the pipe 22 to a predetermined value. As shown in figure 4, the pipe extends beyond the right face of the connector 21. As the punch 27 is moved to the left in figure 4, the material of the pipe will be moved to the left and flush with the face of the right face of the connector 21 as shown in figure 7. As the material is deformed to the left and into the faces 7 of the connector, the material will be absorbed by the formed portion at 7.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1, 5-8, and 13 would be allowed if rewritten to overcome the objection above.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed 9/17/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Art Unit: 3726

8. Applicant argues that that Seiji does not teach the concept of adjusting the pipe length. However, as shown in figure 4, the pipe extends beyond the right face of the connector 21. As the punch 27 is moved to the left in figure 4, the material of the pipe will be moved to the left and flush with the face of the right face of the connector 21 as shown in figure 7. As the material is deformed to the left and into the faces 7 of the connector, the material will be absorbed by the formed portion at 7. The teachings in Seiji is therefore considered to meet the claim limitations “..... clamping and fixing a portion of the pipe for adjusting a length of the pipe simultaneously when the connector is attached to the end portion, ...” as recited in claim 14. See mark up of Seiji fig. 5 below.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Interviews After Final

10. Applicant note that an interview after a final rejection will not be granted unless the intended purpose and content of the interview is presented briefly, in writing (the agenda of the interview must be in writing) to clarify issues for appeal requiring only nominal further consideration. Interviews merely to restate arguments of record or to discuss new limitations will be denied. See MPEP 714.13 and 713.09.
